Michael Scherer is a retired construction manager who is a reader of world history including history of religions. He lived and worked in Egypt from 1985 through 1990, and had numerous Muslim friends and colleagues while there. The growing turmoil in today's world, some of it blamed on the Koran, has led him to do some of his own studies of that sacred book, along with Islamic tradition, to try to reconcile the good feelings he took away from Egypt with today's intercultural difficulties. Mr. Scherer presented his thoughts via a well-received course as part of the Western Institute of Lifelong Learning this past Spring, and he has continued to think deeply about these matters.

News from the Board:

The Board is beginning preparations for the Annual Meeting of the UUFSC which will be held November 13, 2016. An important date for those members and friends who have not yet signed the membership roll (posted on the wall in the front foyer) is September 13, 2016. UUFSC by-laws require yearly sign in as a member 60 days before the Annual meeting as a requirement for voting. If you have questions, please talk to Membership Chair Pamela Page, or any Board member.

The Board continues to address various issues of governance, guided by the perpetual calendar. Discussion of a Covenanting process as well as the possibility of offering the UUA workshop "Serving With Grace" continues.

The Board has concern about the lack of a future Chair. To date no one has expressed willingness to follow George Ruebelmann in this position.

Sandra Michaud has begun duties as Office Coordinator. The Board welcomes her and thanks to Harriet for her years of service.

The next Board meeting will take place Thursday September 15, 2:00 pm at the Fellowship. Any interested UUFSC members/friends are invited to join.

Jane Riger, Board Secretary

New books to read! Thelma Moore, one of our UU friends who drives from Deming to attend the Fellowship, left two books for our library. One can make a Difference is a collection of stories about how simple actions can change the world. Authors include such diverse folks as Bridget Bardot and the Dalai Lama. This is a donated book. The second book is on extended loan, and is entitled Walking With the Wind: A Memoir of the Movement. It was written by Congressman John Lewis, and provides a rich written and pictorial history. Many thanks to Thelma, who brings her enthusiasm (and rocks for the labyrinth) with her from Deming on Sundays.
